

An aerial photograph of a road intersection. A red polygon is drawn on the road surface, and a red arrow points to it from the upper right. The polygon is located on a side road that meets a main road. The side road has a dirt shoulder and some vegetation. The main road has a median and a roundabout. The area is surrounded by greenery and some buildings.